PUT YOUR TEAM IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Use improvisational techniques to generate ideas, get one-on-one presentation coaching from actors and theatre professionals, or create a custom team-building event. However you want to build your skills, we can show you how theatre-based training can transform you and your team.

Our programs help your team develop creativity, presence, confidence, communication, teamwork and problem solving skills. We offer fun and engaging exercises in our 180 seat theater, at any one of our 14 rehearsal studios, in your office or at your next off-site retreat. Choose a pre-packaged workshop or we can work with you to create a custom experience based on your goals.

LEARN THE SAME SKILLS THAT ACTORS USE TO COMMAND A ROOM

In both business and theatre, all eyes are on you when it's show time. You can give your team a competitive advantage by working with professional theatre instructors to improve presentation, improvisation and communication skills.

- Deliver your message with clarity
- Find your true voice and presence
- Strengthen creative thinking through improvisation
- Create stronger team dynamics and collaboration
- Have fun while learning valuable skills

TEAM BUILDING WITHOUT TRUST FALLS

Bring out everyone's natural creativity with pre-designed or customized sessions that build bonds through supportive and fun training.

Improv and Cocktails

Strengthen your team by exploring the building blocks of improvisation. You'll dive into activities that unlock communication, risk-taking and a sense of play by learning the most basic rule of improvisation: a positive "Yes, and..." attitude. Develop scenes specific to your team and workplace environment and continue the laughs with optional cocktails.

Voice and Speech

Powerful and compelling delivery is essential for all professionals who use their voice. Learn the mechanics of voice and the importance of speech to effective communication. Your group will explore the power of voice through inflection, rhythm, tempo, breath support and articulation.

Creative Problem Solving

Communication and collaboration are crucial to creative and effective problem solving. In this low pressure and fun session, you'll explore improvisation, theatre exercises and role-playing to examine challenges and find solutions as a team. You'll leave with experience in active listening, spontaneity and effective interpersonal communication.

WE COACH. YOU WIN.

Focus on individual business skills one-on-one or as a group. You'll work directly with a private coach to master the arts of presentation and auditioning.

Public Speaking

Great speakers tell great stories. We'll work with you to harness your inner storyteller and captivate your audience. You'll leave more confident in your skills and more trusting of your ability to work a room.

Presentation Skills

Deliver every presentation with confidence and clarity. We'll help you move beyond reading screens and stiff movements to achieve true audience engagement. Give your message the impact it deserves with non-verbal communication.

Voice and Speech

The starting point of all presentation is voice and speech. But you need more than everyday speech patterns and behavior to use your voice to its fullest potential. We'll help you find the power of your voice through exercises in inflection, rhythm, tempo, breath support and articulation.

Audition

Auditions are stressful and you need every competitive edge you can get. Our master acting faculty will work directly with you to make you and your material shine in every moment. If needed, on-camera coaching also is available.

DIRECT YOUR OWN TRAINING SESSION.

We'll work with you to design a customized program for your business

Your business has its own unique culture, so let us customize an experience to reflect your team's needs. From improvisation and acting to public speaking and team building, our theatre professionals will execute your creative event. Our facilitators will meet with you to tailor the event to meet your company's objective. Let us plan the details while you take center stage!
